* A Green cell means that 100% of the expected data has been exchanged between applications for that specific interval.

* A Green cell does not represent the internal processing of each receiving application, wherein a failure may affect the final results you are expecting.

* If any known errors occur during internal processing of a receiving application we will endeavor to inform you as soon as possible.

* If any one of the multiple expected data exchanges fails to complete for a specific interval, then the cell color will turn to Red. The data you are expecting for that interval may still be valid, however there was an unexpected failure in the data exchange, and thus there is a potential for incomplete final results.
