I. Answer

Tacoma’s December 11 complaint appeals a tariff-required sanction of $30,000 related to late corrections of meter data values for each trading day in September 2022. This complaint is substantially similar to three prior complaints Tacoma has filed in docket numbers EL24-25-000, EL24-14-000, and EL23-103-000. Aside from the impacted trading days, the underlying issues in these three dockets are essentially the same as the issues in this docket. The CAISO’s answer in those three dockets explained it supports relief for parties such as Tacoma that have established they are subject to inequitable penalties under the existing tariff rules. For these reasons, the CAISO supports the relief Tacoma seeks in this docket.
