Additional comments

Please offer any other feedback your organization would like to provide on the Excess Behind the Meter Production: Draft Final Proposal.

In the Revised Straw Proposal issued on November 5, 2018, the CAISO committed to publishing an aggregation of the excess behind the meter production data in response to stakeholder requests. Specifically, on page 6 of the Revised Straw Proposal, the CAISO stated:

“The ISO is committed to publishing an aggregation of the excess behind the meter production data in a monthly performance report that will be posted every other month.”

It is WPTF’s understanding that this was inadvertently left out of the CAISO’s Draft Final Proposal. Thus, WPTF is requesting the CAISO issue a redlined version of the Draft Final Proposal to reflect this commitment.

Additionally, WPTF would like to take this opportunity to reiterate its previous ask that the published data be reported by load aggregation point and as temporally granular as feasible (i.e. 5-minute data preferred if available). Having the data reported in such a way to allow participants to align the production data with energy market prices would be extremely beneficial from a market transparency perspective.
