Southern California Edison (SCE) offers the following comments on the California Independent System Operator (CAISO) white paper on Transmission Induced Generator Outages and December 12 call¹.

SCE supports the CAISO's proposed tariff change

The CAISO's proposal to exempt capacity stranded due to a transmission outage from RAIM availability, is reasonable and should benefit the market. As raised during the stakeholder call, this exemption should apply to flex RA capacity as well (in addition to system or local RA), which should be reflected in the proposed language.
