CAL-ISO UNVEILS NEW INTERNET WEB SITE User-Friendly and Faster

(Folsom, CA) The California Independent System Operator (Cal-ISO) is launching its newly redesigned Internet web site today, Wednesday, December 9, 1998, and inviting the public to visit at www.caiso.com. One of the most comprehensive and complex Internet sites, the Cal-ISO web site is home to more than 1,000 documents and a public market clearinghouse that assists participants in the state's newly competitive energy marketplace. The Cal-ISO web site is also an educational tool for the general public and others who are interested in finding out more about the role the Cal-ISO plays as a transmission grid operator and market facilitator.

On hot summer days, when high temperatures cause electricity consumption to skyrocket, visitors to the home page can keep track of the current demand on the power grid as well as the expected peak demand for the day. Navigating the site will be easier thanks to employment of the latest web design technologies and colorful new graphics that make traveling through the site more user-friendly as well as faster.
