PG&E appreciates the opportunity to provide written comments in response to the proposed tariff changes to authorize the use of Monday-Only Gas price index published by the Intercontinental Exchange (ICE) on Fridays. PG&E supports the proposed tariff language with one caveat. Since Monday-Only prices often have very low liquidity, PG&E is concerned that these prices may be subject to manipulation. PG&E supports the use of Monday-Only prices if CAISO conducts periodic reviews to ensure that there is no price manipulation.
